

Awakening to the Priestess Path - Summary

Women - are you ready to awaken the priestess within? In less than two weeks you can develop simple personal practice techniques that transform your perspective of yourself and your world; activate your personal power and recalibrate your body and your being; and teach you to direct the flows of energy through your body, mind, heart and soul, empowering you to make clear and healthy choices about your lifestyle, relationships, work, creativity and spirituality. This 13-day course covers all the basic elements of a simple ritual you can adapt to any need or desire, from grounding and centering to creating sacred space to bringing the blessings you find there into your life. You can share your journey with other women online, creating an immediate circle of support and inspiration - or simply practice the essential elements and let them flow through your life and consciousness.

Once you have been introduced to the Priestess Path you can repeat the course as often as you like, or advance to the 13-week Stepping Stones course which covers each topic in more depth and detail.

Just click the button below to register for Awakening to the Priestess Path.